Save the European linguistic Diversity, by Rodolfo Maslias

“From the institutional point of view in our multicultural and multilingual family, the European Union, multilingualism is the object of its first regulation and remains in force for more than 50 years now, we consider it as a right of each citizen to use their language in legal procedures, we have accepted that respecting language and culture eases integration and mutual understanding.”

This is the first paragraph of an article written by Rodolfo Maslias which deals with the effect of the globalisation concept on all activities and especially in the field of communication.
